

INTERAGENCY AGREEMENT BETWEEN
WASHINGTON STATE RECREATION AND CONSERVATION OFFICE
AND
CITY OF CENTRALIA

PARTIES TO THE AGREEMENT

This Interagency Agreement is made and entered into by and between the Washington State Recreation and Conservation Office, hereinafter referred to as "RCO", and City of Centralia, hereinafter referred to as "City of Centralia", pursuant to the authority granted by Chapter 39.34 RCW.

PURPOSE

Centralia is applying for funds to construct upstream storage on China Creek modeled after the Johnson Creek Brookside Wetland project in Portland, Oregon. It is intended to use excavated naturally shaped landforms, stream channel friction and natural in stream fish habitat features to slow down and store runoff from the upper China Creek watershed during high flow runoff events. Delaying the peak flow runoff from the upper basin (approximately 70% of the watershed, generating 40% of the runoff flow) will allow China Creek to transport runoff from the urbanized middle basin (approximately 15% of watershed, generating 50% of runoff flow) reducing the frequency and/or intensity of flooding downtown.

The flood benefits of the project include reduced/eliminated flooding of downtown businesses, preserving access along main travel corridors for emergency vehicles and the public, and improved emergency response time during flood events. The project will also recreate the China Creek ecosystem within the project boundary. The beneficiaries are local business owners, the public and the public employees who serve the public during flood events, and fish and wildlife.

Projected timeline is as follows:

- May-September 2016 – Project construction
- January-March 2017 – Native planting
